Fostering the love of reading one child and one book at a time.
Dear Friends,

Thanks to your commitment, 2017 was an outstanding year at FFCL. Looking back on the year, the first thing that comes to mind is growth. Expanding the reach of FFCL was one of the top goals in our 2015-2017 Strategic Plan, and 2017 did not disappoint.

For starters, FFCL partnered with United Way of Metropolitan Dallas and the Boone Family Foundation to launch a new program in Dallas County, Texas in typical Texas fashion – BIG! The addition of a new Community Action Team in Lincoln County, Mississippi, brought the total number of states in the FFCL network to five: Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Montana and Texas. Across all five states, many new programs were launched and, all told, the number of children participating in the FFCL program grew from 32,157 in January 2017 to 40,485 by the end of the year – a 26% increase!

We still have work to do, but I assure you that our momentum has not slowed in 2018! We’ve been through an exciting rebranding process and we continue to grow. But through all the growth and changes, we are reminded daily of why we set such ambitious goals in the first place. We work in an office surrounded by the wonderful books that over 43,000 children run to their mailboxes to find every month. Our fabulous volunteers pop in and out, in preparation for events in their communities. And throughout the day, we receive calls from parents who are delighted to learn that YES, we do have a program in their community, and YES, their children can participate for free!

With every $36 we raise, one more child will be introduced to an exciting world of books and will be ready to hit the ground running when he or she starts kindergarten. With every new program launched, one more community will start to see test scores improve and high school graduation rates rise. Birth to five is the critical window that sets the stage for the rest of a child’s life – and the predictor for future academic success. Because of you, we are providing more and more children with THE key item they need to achieve that success – books in the home. Thank you for standing with us as we work to create happy stories and brighter futures for all children.

Cheers,

Betsy Wagenhauser
President

Our Mission

To provide books for local communities to prepare all preschool children for reading and learning success.

Our Vision

To afford the best chance to every child to succeed in school, and in life, and to create an educated, productive and competitive workforce.
Ferst Foundation for Childhood Literacy works to improve early literacy outcomes by mailing free, developmentally appropriate books monthly to children birth to five, as well as providing literacy resources to parents. Success is due largely to Community Action Teams, or CATs, composed of dedicated volunteers who, at the local, county/community level, are responsible for registering children, raising funds and promoting literacy through partnerships with other local organizations. More than 700 volunteer CAT members across five states are working in their communities to raise awareness around the issue of early literacy. The cost of the program, $36/year/child, is raised through donations from individuals, foundations, businesses, civic groups and churches. FFCL is committed to helping build the foundation for a lifelong love of reading and learning.
The Importance of Reading

46% of adults can’t read the labels on their prescriptions

33% of high school graduates will never read a book after high school

70 million Low literacy directly costs the healthcare industry over $70 million every year

50% of U.S. adults can’t read an 8th grade book

1 in 4 children in America grow up without learning how to read

2/3 of students who cannot read proficiently by the end of 4th grade will end up in jail or on welfare

30 million American adults read at a below basic level
“My son loves the excitement of getting a new book in the mail. I love the suggestions in the newsletter of what to ask while reading together and ways to involve my son in the reading process. So far his favorite book is Flying.”

- Christina S., mother of FFCL program participant

It’s always exciting to see what book he gets in the mail. It’s the only mail he typically gets, so we look forward to pulling it out of the mailbox. Peep, Jump Frog Jump and more are among our top books. It helps to add variety to our nightly reading (well, when Peep isn’t his selection...).”

- Amanda R., mother of FFCL program participant

“Being a school administrator, I am able to see firsthand how important it is to have books in the hands of young people at an early age. It is not enough to simply teach children to read. We have to give them something worth reading and something that they are interested in. We must find that special piece of text that will stretch their imaginations - something with which they can make real world connections.”

- Julie Steele, FFCL Board Member and Principal of Lamar County Middle School

First and foremost, whoever came up with the idea to give children these books are really sweet and kind. I have twin girls that attend Buckeye Head Start and they enjoy every book they receive from FFCL. Every month, when their books arrive, both Ava and Aisa want me to read to them immediately. They have the same book but I have to read it to each of them separately. Their eyes light up as if they were receiving a toy for Christmas. I just want to say thank you for the joy these books give my twin girls and for the knowledge they will gain in the future because they know reading is fun.

- Alicia P., mother of FFCL program participant

The single most significant factor influencing a child’s early educational success is an introduction to books and being read to at home prior to beginning school.

- National Commission on Reading, 1985

Access to Books

- 5,182,450 total books mailed since 2000
- 418,320 books mailed to children in 2017

Children Reached

- 237,266 children participating since 2000
- 46,383 children receiving books in 2017
For the fourth year, FFCL partnered with GEEARS, Atlanta Speech School, the Junior League of Atlanta, the Children’s Museum and others, helping to distribute more than 10,000 books to children across the city.

Georgia Retired Educators Association
GREA President Jesse Hunter selected FFCL as GREA’s humanitarian project of the year. REA chapters across Georgia embraced the project by raising both funds and awareness for the FFCL program. FFCL/GREA’s “For the Love of Reading” Challenge video contest garnered over 12,000 votes on our website and close to $35,000 was raised to support FFCL programs in REA communities and beyond.

Mayor’s Summer Reading Club
For the fourth year, FFCL partnered with GEEARS, Atlanta Speech School, the Junior League of Atlanta, the Children’s Museum and others, helping to distribute more than 10,000 books to children across the city.

Family Literacy Initiative
To strengthen our parent-engagement focus, FFCL partnered with the Rollins Center for Language and Literacy and Morgan County School’s Early Learning to develop a Family Literacy Initiative. The result is Conversations Count, a three-session literacy training workshop for parents which is designed to be simple to implement, yet effective at demonstrating the best techniques for how parents should read and talk with their children.

Guide Star and Charity Navigator
FFCL received Charity Navigator’s highest four-star rating and earned GuideStar Platinum Level for demonstrating strong financial health and commitment to accountability and transparency.
Community Action Team Summit
Our fabulous CAT volunteers gathered in Madison in May for our annual CAT summit. Volunteers and FFCL staff used the opportunity to meet, reconnect, share success stories and focus on best practices and fund-raising strategies. A few weeks later, our Jasper and Putnam County CATs led a mini-summit to share the details of hosting one of our favorite themed fundraisers, Seuss-on-the-Loose.

Book Selection Committee
FFCL’s policy is to provide the highest quality preschool literature for the children in our program. Working primarily with Peachtree Publishers, Our Rainbow Press and Harper Collins, our book selection committee only considers books that have received at least one positive review in a professional journal.

Books are further evaluated based on:
• Artistic and aesthetic qualities
• Readability as a read-aloud selection
• High standards of quality in content, expression and physical attributes
• Contents that are timely, accurate, and representative of various viewpoints
• Established reputation of the author, illustrator, and publisher
• Contemporary significance, potential usefulness, appeal or cultural value of the title
• Appropriateness for the subject area and for the age, emotional development, ability level, learning styles, and social development of the children for whom the materials are selected.

Strategic Planning
The FFCL Board adopted the recommendation of the Long-Range Planning Committee by extending the 2015-2017 Strategic Plan through 2019.

Top FFCL objectives include:
• Expand the reach of FFCL
• Strengthen FFCL
• Measure and communicate the impact of FFCL
• Drive FFCL’s position as the preeminent influencer/accelerant for early childhood literacy.

Spanish Resources
In response to the growing need, FFCL makes our parent newsletter, and its valuable literacy resources, available in Spanish upon request in Texas and other targeted programs. We also have dedicated Spanish-speaking staff members to better serve our Hispanic families.
Where in the World is FFCL?

Georgia Growth
As exciting as it is to add new states to our program, FFCL has not forgotten its roots. Our Community Action Teams and partnerships flourished across Georgia in 2017. In partnership with United Way of Greater Atlanta, FFCL continued and expanded its work in Atlanta’s Westside (the former Promise Neighborhood) with a grant from the Joseph B. Whitehead Foundation. Working again through United Way, FFCL replicated the Westside program in daycares across Clayton County with initial enrollment of 1,255 children. Outside of Metro Atlanta, new CATs were started or significantly expanded in Bibb, Chattooga, Coffee, Dekalb, Floyd, Gordon, Tattnall, Taylor and Whitfield Counties.

Texas
Following a community kickoff at the Dallas Public Library on May 31, our Dallas, Texas FFCL program – Once Upon a Month – was launched in partnership with United Way of Metropolitan Dallas and The Boone Family Foundation. The Dallas program fills a critical need in the Dallas area by providing families access to books and parent literacy resources, in both English and Spanish, in targeted low-income areas. Once Upon a Month served 3,500 in its first year and plans for expansion are already underway.

Mississippi
Thanks to dedicated Community Action Team (CAT) volunteers and the generosity of an anonymous donor, our Lincoln County, Mississippi program was launched in September 2017. The new Lincoln County CAT served over 200 children in low-income environments before the end of the year and continues to thrive in 2018.

Florida
Our Nassau County, Florida program served close to 700 children in 2017. Since its founding in 2016, our Nassau County Community Action Team has already mailed more than 9,000 books to children’s homes!
Friends of FFCL gathered at the Carter Center in Atlanta to celebrate our FIVE MILLION book milestone in November. The evening featured storytelling, improv, dinner, music, readings from children’s authors and more. Over $ 31,782.96 was raised as our supporters generously responded to the Fund the Need auction. The evening was highlighted with the presentation of the Phoenix Award to FFCL founder, Robin Ferst Marhaver by television news icon Monica Pearson Kaufmann on behalf of Atlanta Mayor Kasim Reed.
